II. Legal Custody (Decision Making)(Required Provision)

G 2.1 Joint Legal Custody. Both parents are fit and proper persons to have joint responsibility for the care of the minor child(ren). It is in the best interest of the child(ren) that the parties jointly share in the care of the child(ren). The term "joint legal custody" means that both parents have equal rights and responsibilities regarding their child(ren) and that neither parent's rights are superior to the other parent's.

G 2.2 Sole Legal Custody. Joint legal custody is not in the best interests of the child(ren). The parent granted sole legal custody has the primary right to decide matters regarding matters of health, education and welfare in the child(ren)'s best interests. The parent not granted sole legal custody may make emergency decisions affecting the health or safety of the child(ren) when the child(ren) is in that parent's physical care and control. The grant of sole legal custody to one parent does not deprive the other parent of access to information regarding the child(ren) unless the court shall so order, stating the reasons for that determination.

Sole legal custody is granted to G Mother G Father for the following reasons:

- G Agreement of the parents.
- G The other parent is unable or should not be allowed to exercise any decision- making.
- G There is such a high level of disagreement between the parents that one parent needs to be designated as the primary decision maker for the best interests of the child(ren) to be served.
- G There is a danger to the child(ren).

G 2.21 Restriction of Information Regarding the Child(ren) to Non Legal Custodian.

The G Mother G Father is restrained from access to information regarding the child(ren) for the following specific reasons (such as agreement of the parties or serious danger to the child(ren)) stating the specific reason for a determination that the non-custodial parent should be restricted from access to information regarding the child(ren): _____
